EDITORIAL

Following a successful and inspiring meeting in Hannover, hosted by Jan Schmitto and the Hannover Medical School in collaboration with the Mayo Clinic, it is with great excitement that we announce the 19th European Mechanical. Circulatory Summit (EUMS 2025) will be hosted by the Bellvitge University Hospital in Barcelona from September 7–10, 2025. Please add this important date into your agendas!

Over the years, the EUMS has established itself as the premier platform for showcasing novel innovations, defining best practices, and fostering interdisciplinary strategies in the field of advanced heart failure. This year, we aim to build on that legacy by introducing fresh themes designed to spark meaningful discussions and debates.

The summit offers a unique opportunity for participants to network with a diverse audience, fostering collaboration among cardiologists, intensivists, cardiac surgeons, electrophysiologists, VAD coordinators, nurses, engineers, and industry representatives. By bringing the EUMS to Barcelona, we further our shared mission to enhance understanding, acceptance, and the use of Mechanical Circulatory Support therapy as a vital treatment for end-stage heart failure.

We are thrilled to welcome you to Barcelona this September and look forward to your contributions to another impactful edition of the EUMS.
