Following a successful and inspiring meeting in Hannover, hosted by Professor Jan Schmitto and the Hannover Medical School in collaboration with the Mayo Clinic, it is with great excitement that we announce the 19th European Mechanical Circulatory Summit (EUMS) Barcelona will now be held on February 15-18, 2026, in collaboration with the Bellvitge Hospital and the International Symposium on Mechanical Circulatory Support.

Please add this important date into your agendas!

Over the years, the EUMS has established itself as the premier platform for showcasing novel innovations, defining best practices, and fostering interdisciplinary strategies in the field of advanced heart failure. This year, we aim to build on that legacy by introducing fresh themes designed to spark meaningful discussions and debates.

This joint event will provide a strengthened platform for knowledge exchange, innovation, and discussion in the fields of mechanical circulatory support, advanced heart failure, and cardiac surgery. "By aligning with the International Symposium on Mechanical Circulatory Support, we are confident that we can deliver a more impactful and collaborative scientific meeting" said Professor Leprince, Chair of the EUMS Organising Committee.

The summit offers a unique opportunity for participants to network with a diverse audience, fostering collaboration among cardiologists, intensivists, cardiac surgeons, electrophysiologists, VAD coordinators, nurses, engineers, and industry representatives. By bringing together these two important meetings, we further our shared mission to enhance the understanding, acceptance, and use of mechanical circulatory support therapy as a vital treatment for end-stage heart failure.

We are thrilled to welcome you to Barcelona this February and look forward to your contributions to another impactful edition of the EUMS.
